To groom your Cocker Spaniel, start by combing and brushing it to remove any hair that's shedding, and untangle any matted fur. Then, bathe your dog in warm water, and dry it off with a blow dryer. Next, attach a 10 or 15 blade to your clippers, and trim your pet's face, head, and neck, and just the top part of its ears.

Shaving or clipping your Cocker Spaniel will not help to keep him cool in summer, nor will it reduce shedding! The Cocker Spaniel's coat is designed to keep cold air and heat out, providing him with insulation and protection from the elements. If you clip away the hair, you'll leave your Cocker Spaniel vulnerable to heatstroke and chills.
